

Two Surrey students receive combined $180K in scholarships

Surrey's Ali Janjiana and Jasmine Rai were chosen from a pool of more than 1,300 nominees

AMY REID / Fri Jun 16th, 2017 8:30am / C O M M

SURREY — Two Surrey students are among just 50 teens selected nationwide to receive the prestigious 2017 Schulich Leader Scholarship.

Ali Janjiana, who is graduating from Frank Hurt Secondary this year, was awarded a $100,000 scholarship to study engineering at UBC, while, Princess Margaret Secondary student Jasmine Rai received $80,000 toward her studies at Simon Fraser University.

The pair were chosen from a pool of more than 1,300 nominees for their outstanding academic and extra-curricular achievements.

The scholarships are awarded to study science, technology, engineering or mathematics (STEM) at participating universities in Canada and Israel. The program awards 100 scholarships annually, valued at more than $7 million.

Now-Leader

- 1 Early LRT work begins in Surrey
  - 2 Surrey school playground campaign cries foul over voting
  - 3 Surrey bylaw officer honoured with 2017 Career Achievement Award
  - 4 From dishwasher to franchisee: A Surrey success story
  - 5 Trio chosen to play for Canada at World Championships
-

© 2017, Surrey Now-Leader and Black Press, Inc.

Contact Us / Our Team / Privacy Policy / Terms of use / Surrey News / Surrey Weather / Surrey Classifieds